

Jaffa App

Factories usually face challenges in marketing as consumers prefer to buy their products mainly from

The supermarket instead of buying directly from the factories themselves. On top of that, marketing can be

For these challenges, we have developed a mobile app designed

Products to the supermarket are a complex process. Response

To meet the needs of third distinct user roles, Eunuch sa for selling coffee, spices and a variety of

Other Food Packages

First round

Users in this role are responsible for managing incoming requests. The tasks of this role include accepting or Reject orders and coordinate with the appropriate delivery staff to ensure fast and efficient delivery of orders.

In addition, administrators have a set of tools to track orders, monitor profits, and determine

Top Selling Products

Second round

Includes a variety of users, including restaurateurs, grocery stores, and consumers

Individual. The application has a strong recommendation system that enables users to share their experiences with products,

This strengthens our community-based platform. The application also provides users with easy direct communication

With the official for inquiries