

The pattern of fine needle aspiration of thyroid lesions in north west bank

Students:

Aseel Tanbour

Supervisor :

Dr. Rami Zaghera

Abstract :

The aim objective of this study is to find out the pattern of fine needle aspiration of thyroid lesion results in north west bank in term of benign or malignant, in addition to distribution of lesions among age and sex groups. Thyroid FNA pattern in north west bank shows similar pathological pattern in other parts of the world with benign lesions being more common and goiterous nodules, the most common benign lesions.